Steel Workers And
Companies PrepareWORKERS AT ONE CARNEGIE MILL VOTE
AGAINST STRIKE BUT COURSE
OF MANY UNDECIDED

MANY MILLS SHUTTING DOWN

By FRED S. FERGUSON
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—Prospect of trouble with possible clashes began to grow this afternoon as plants prepared for the big steel strike. Two companies of Pennsylvania's famous state police were ordered out and 10,000 deputies were being sworn in by the authorities.

Mayors of steel towns about Pittsburgh announced that steps will be taken to prevent unlawful mass meetings of steel workers called for Sunday. Local ordinances require that permits be obtained for all public meetings or gatherings. Mass meetings are being ordered by the national headquarters. The mayors say they will arrest all persons attending meetings without permits.

Mayors of such towns as McKeesport, Clairton, Homestead, Rankin and other big steel towns issued proclamations or statements this afternoon declaring that gatherings would be prohibited and that they would see that lives and property would be protected.

Sharon Will be Peaceful

SHARON, Sept. 20.—No attempt to employ strike breakers will be made by the Sharon Steel Hoop company. President F. P. Kerr of the company today issued a letter to all employees informing them that the plant will be open Monday as usual but if the men walk out no attempt will be made to operate. Reproductions of the letter from Judge E. H. Gary to the union men in which he expressed the belief that a majority of the men are against a strike today were circulated throughout the Shenango Valley.

Vote Against Strike

Employees of the north works of the Carnegie Steel Company today took a vote and 95 per cent. of the 300 men declared their position against the strike. Steel company officials today appealed to Sheriff Gibson of Mercer, to swear in a large number of deputies to protect the lives in the event of any disorder. A similar request will be made to Governor Sprout.

Women Will Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Women will be relied upon to help win the nation wide strike against the United States Steel Corporation scheduled to begin Monday, according to chief organizer, John Fitzpatrick.

"Women investigators will be sent into the homes of the strikers to see what help can be given by the union organizations and to keep up the morale of the wives and daughters of the strikers," said Fitzpatrick.

A. F. of L. Aid Expected

Fitzpatrick today was on his way to Chicago. He held a conference yesterday with President Gompers of the A. F. of L. in reply to a direct question as to whether the A. F. of L. must give support. The movement to organize the steel workers was initiated by the A. F. of L. headed by President Gompers.

Neither Fitzpatrick nor Gompers would discuss their conference. Fitzpatrick discussed the letter sent to President Wilson explaining why the steel workers refused to comply with his request to postpone the strike until the round table conference October 1.

Halls Rented

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—Steel companies were reported today to have rented all the halls in Braddock and Homestead in hope of preventing meetings of the steel workers on Monday. Union officials meanwhile assert that the men will insist upon their rights of assembly and find places to meet. Rumors of preparations which the steel companies are making throughout Pittsburgh are also being spread.

could not be verified.

May Try Operation

The Allegheny and West Penn mills at Brackenridge suspended operation to enable the men to hold a meeting at which they will consider the action they will take with regard to the strike. The company at the same time issued a statement assuring its opposition to a closed shop. In the event of a strike it was stated the plant will endeavor to continue operation with loyal employees. Secretary Foster of the steel workers' committee stated that several independent steel plants are already negotiating for a settlement.

Chicago Prepares

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Preparations for a gigantic industrial battle were made here today with the strike of steel workers practically certain. Company officials assert that only a minority of the employees will strike.

LETTER EXPLAINS
WHY AIRPLANE DID
NOT ARRIVE HERE

The following letter was received this morning from the American and Canadian Allied Flying Circus, Inc. This letter fully explains the failure of the airplane to reach here for Wednesday's program.

September 13, 1919
Mr. Fred B. Reed,
Clearfield County Fair,
Clearfield, Pa.
Dear Sir:

Following up our telegram of today we wish to express our regrets that both of our attempts to fill your contract were futile.

Immediately upon receiving word that Capt. Stickney had crashed, and could not fill the engagement in time, we got in touch with Lieut. Kenneth M. Murray who has a Sopwith Camel, the only privately owned airplane capable of reaching Clearfield in time, in a non-stop flight from New York.

You might remember Lieut. Murray as the pilot who flew from Toledo on July 4th with the photographs of the Willard-Dempsey fight. He landed in Clearfield at the time, owing to motor trouble.

Lieut. Murray in trying out the Sopwith preparatory to the long flight to Clearfield, made a heavy landing, which bent the axle in such a manner, that it was impossible to fix it in time although two mechanics assisted him in trying to remedy the defect.

We hope that our misfortune in not being able to fill the engagement did not greatly inconvenience you, and can honestly assure you that we did everything in our power to fill the contract on time.

Very truly yours,
American and Canadian Allied Flying Circus, Inc.,
MORSE D. LENITT,
President.

JOHN L. KRAGLE PASSES AWAY

John L. Kragle, one of Clearfield's best known and most highly respected citizens, died at the Clearfield hospital at 7 o'clock last evening after an illness extending over several months, but which became acute only a few weeks ago. He had been an uncomplicated sufferer for some time and a couple of weeks ago was removed from his Locust street home to the hospital to be prepared for an operation. He appeared to be getting along satisfactorily when he seized some ten days ago with a hemorrhage from the stomach and it was then discovered that his illness was due to a cancerous affection and that it was the question of but a short time until death must ensue.

He was given every attention possible and all the members of his family kept affectionate vigil at his bedside until the final summons came.

John L. Kragle was a native born Clearfielder being the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Kragle, and was born at the family home on Locust street 69 years ago. He learned the painting trade and for many years carried on a successful business in that line here, being actively engaged up until the end.

He was a progressive, good citizen, a loyal friend, honest and upright in his dealings. Always taking an active interest in the welfare of his town and community he was identified with every movement of interest thereto.

He is survived by three sons, Gaulin and John E. of Philipsburg, and Fred, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. W. F. Patterson of DuBois. One brother and two sisters also survive him, viz. George J. and Miss Annie, at home, and Mrs. M. V. Smith, of Clarksburg, W. Va.

The deceased was a lifelong consistent member of the Catholic church, and the funeral will be held from St. Francis church Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

ACCIDENT AT PARK YESTERDAY

A little girl named Lantz, about 8 years old, was knocked down by one of the race horses at the park Friday afternoon and quite painfully hurt, but fortunately escaped serious injury.

While the horses were warming up previous to the first heat in the 2:30 race the little girl and her sister attempted to cross the track. They were almost across when some one called to them to get out of the way of the fast approaching horses. The children bewilderedly stopped, when started again and the one little girl was struck by the sulky and hurled to the track.

Willing hands quickly picked her up and she was taken at once to the hospital where it was found her injuries consisted of a bad cut above the eye and bruises about the body and she was later removed to her home on Fifth street.

ATHLETIC SHOW
ARRANGED FOR
THURSDAY NIGHT

Manager Edwards of the Clearfield Athletic club is arranging to stage another athletic show for the benefit of local sportsmen. As the premier card on the program he has secured Harry Mayo, of Altoona, the 155 pound champion of the U. S. navy who served during the war on the Battleship Massachusetts to meet Kid Gardner, the local expert.

The affair will be held in Friendly Two Hall at the foot of Bigler avenue-hill on Thursday evening next. Mayo is entered this week as a member of the Altoona Athletic club in a contest at Pittsburgh for the Amateur championship of the United States in his class and is expected to give a good account of himself. Henderson is a very fast man and a crackerjack bout is sure to be the result.

In addition to the main bout several boxing and wrestling preliminaries between local cranks will be on the card.

THEATRICAL MAN—SWINDLER

H. L. Davis, alias Edward R. Starley, representing himself to be an advance agent for a street carnival, was successful in defrauding a member bank of Bellefonte, Pa., by means of a check of considerable size, drawn on the Central State Bank of Des Moines, Iowa. Davis, on presenting the check, alleged that it was in payment of expenses by a carnival company he represented. After defrauding this bank, he left the vicinity and was traced to Paul Smiths, N. Y., where he married a young girl of that town. Shortly after their marriage, he deserted her and again dropped from sight. This matter was reported to our detective agents, who are now engaged in tracing the movements of Davis. This operator is described as 35 to 40 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches, 150 pounds, medium build, sallow complexion, blue eyes; dark hair, graying; nervous temperament; flashy dresser; wears I. N. E. fraternity ring on little finger. (Journal of American Bankers Association.)

LITTLE FOLKS POPULAR

It is no disadvantage to be little—in fact we know of three who found that it added much to their popularity—but they were triplets.

The three little Littles of near Grass Flat were the center of attraction at the County Fair and each one of them wore the coveted blue ribbon.

The little Littles are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Little of Pleasant Hill school house near Grass Flat and each one of them is just about one year old. Our reporter was so struck with the three little chaps that he neglected to get their names but that is not of much consequence as it would be hard to pick them out by name anyhow.

From early morning until late at night, the three boys and their proud mother met the crowds that surrounded the booth and all seemed to enjoy it although one little fellow did get pretty tired late in the afternoon.

AMERICAN LEGION DANCE
THURSDAY

The American Legion dance scheduled for next Thursday evening at Idora Park gives promise of being one of the most pleasing functions of the fall season. The boys are making complete arrangements for the affair and a large attendance is already assured.

TROUBLE MAKERS
WERE LOCKED UP
UNTIL COURT'S END

There was a night session of Civil court last night but one of the jurors failed to catch the announcement when it was made and did not show up after supper. A tipstaff was sent out to look for him and when he failed to return with the man as quickly as was expected Judge Bell got down off the bench and without stopping for his hat started out bare-headed to look for the missing juror. He hustled about the usual loafing places about the centre of town and finally ran across his man, who offered all kinds of apologies when he learned of the delay he was causing. The incident served to recall to old timers the story of the troubles which beset the old-time judges in holding court in the old court house in the early day.

Those original Clearfield county residents, or some of them at least, were pretty rough and tumble citizens and as court week was the big time in the community all who were handy gathered in and about the temple of justice. Usually, it is said, the dignity of the court would be upset from time to time by a rough and tumble serap among the spectators in the gallery. The principal trouble-maker in those days was the original "Jacker" Campbell and it got to be such a regular condition that finally when court week arrived Judge Burnside would ride into town on his saddle horse and after taking his seat on the bench would adjust his spectacles and summoning the Sheriff forthwith, in this ultimatum: "Now, Sheriff, arrest 'Jacker' Campbell and keep him confined in the jail until court is over."

"Let us proceed with the court."

AFTERMATH OF GLEN RICHEY
TORNADO

A good story has just leaked out on John Palmer and Alvin Milburg concerning their antics or actions at the time the recent tornado visited Glen Richey. These men were down at Richey's store just on the edge of the blow when the first rush of leaves, tree branches, fence boards and house roofs sailed by on the "100 mile an hour" wind both hustled for the open air. Palmer was in the lead and managed to reach the hitching post in front of the store, which he clasped in the most affectionate embrace of its cold and cheerless existence. Milburg got his nose into the window and when a piece of flying scantling beamed him he ducked under the porch like old Champ Clark's famous "houn dawg."

The longer the wind blew the harder Palmer held to that post. When he got the dust out of his eyes and spied his friend under the porch he roared "Come out, come out, ye devil, ye'll be killed in there." But Milburg kept tight and let the storm roll by. When the skies had cleared and the clouds rolled by it required the combined efforts of Milburg and the store keeper to break Palmer's strangle hold on that post.

MEREDITH—BUSH

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bush, on Turnpike avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Thursday noon when their eldest daughter Iva Degressa was united in marriage to Calvin M. Meredith, son of the late Rev. E. A. Meredith of Kersey, Elk Sully, George Gould, Edith Benjar, Mun. Hopstall, Muriel Rastick, Sally Hunt, Frances Allison, Muriel Thomas and a chorus de luxe said to be one of the hand-some and most versatile ever seen outside the metropolis.

An outlay of over twenty thousand dollars is represented in the latest creations from abroad, the houses of Poiret, Redfern, Gordon, Mmes. Francis, Dugan, Orange Costuming company and Wannamaker being represented, the gowns being shown to advantage by twelve of New York's most famous models.

From every view point, the production is promised to be equal to any ever offered in this or any other city. The sale of seats opens Monday.

CLEARFIELD COUPLE WANTS
DIVORCE

Charles R. Waple, by his attorney Walter Weick, filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office this morning in which he asks for a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Ruth E. Waple, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment, abusive language, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McNeal, of McCortney are guests at the home of Thomas McNeal on Locust street.

LOCAL MAN FIRST
TO INSPECT ROAD
FROM AIRPLANE

We may be backwoodsmen or farmers if you prefer, now that the timber is a thing of the past, and of course live forty miles from the main line to somewhere, but the fellow who drops into Clearfield expecting to find a Rubie community had better drive on. "There is nothing new under the sun up this way, we are here to remark, and when the time for new stunts arrive Clearfield people 'are there' just about as soon and generally just a little bit sooner than the other fellow. And we can even get out of town expert opinion to back us up."

The truth of this statement was demonstrated Thursday. Yesterday morning's Philadelphia papers carried a story about a state road contractor in the eastern part of the state who was the first man in the state to look his job over from the air and then told him the contractor had visited the scene of his operations in an airplane.

This was without a doubt an up-to-date proposition, but like many good things the idea originated with a Clearfield man, Contractor H. P. Dowler, of the firm of Dowler & Anderson, who just two hours before the fellow mentioned in the Philadelphia papers had taken the air, went up the line with Lt. Merrill and his DuBois airplane and not only covered the entire length of his three mile state road contract between Clearfield and Curwensville on an inspection trip but transmitted from the air brief instructions to the crew working the steam shovel on the job.

No, brother; if it's worth while, we have it or have tried it in Clearfield.

BRIDE SHIP IS
NEXT ATTRACTION

With its bright and witty dialogue, its many jingly tunes, its well connected story, and its de sciegle production which spells prodigality and a most excellent cast and chorus, Geo. Choo's magnificent production of the famous musical comedy success "The Bride Ship" will make a bid for public approval at the Driggs theatre on Monday next.

The book is by Fred De Gressa who wrote those international successes "The Purple Roal," "The Enchantress," "Sweethearts," and "Flo Flo," with lyrics by Earl MacBoyle and music by Walter L. Rosemont. It is in two acts and tells in satire how often people who have too much money and ambition can over reach and make fools of themselves without half trying. There are many clever and tuneful musical numbers introduced during the action of the play among which: "There Seems to be Something About You," "Ring Tang Ping Tung Koo," "Oh, Those Tunes," and "Old Wine and Old Friends Are Best" are bound to be whistled and sung by music lovers before the show leaves town.

Mr. Choo has been most lavish in the mounting and presenting of his production. He has engaged a most excellent cast among whom may be found Eddie Vogt, Lew Naden, John Sully, George Gould, Edith Benjar, Mun. Hopstall, Muriel Rastick, Sally Hunt, Frances Allison, Muriel Thomas and a chorus de luxe said to be one of the hand-some and most versatile ever seen outside the metropolis.

An outlay of over twenty thousand dollars is represented in the latest creations from abroad, the houses of Poiret, Redfern, Gordon, Mmes. Francis, Dugan, Orange Costuming company and Wannamaker being represented, the gowns being shown to advantage by twelve of New York's most famous models.

From every view point, the production is promised to be equal to any ever offered in this or any other city. The sale of seats opens Monday.

STEEL STRIKE ONLY A STARTER

If the threatened steel strike could be confined to the United States Steel Corporation and their employees it would warrant no more than passing consideration but there is every indication that Judge Gary, instead of being the main figure in a contest involving only one part of the great steel industry, is really the pivot about whom the crucial and final industrial battle of this decade will be fought.

During the war, in order to force production and increase the per man output of manufactured supplies, the government then in control of every branch of industry, found it necessary to offer immense wages and bonuses to both manufacturers and workmen for speed in production. The natural result was that every individual had his appetite whetted with an indulgence in various luxuries which heretofore had been beyond his reach. Our standard of living, from a material standpoint, was raised and as is perfectly natural, nobody is willing to recede from the position gained. Particularly when prices of food and other necessities does not come as a forerunner of lower earnings.

As was pointed out by many keen scholars of just such conditions, the United States has found it impossible to conduct peace time business and live peace time lives on a war time level. It is not because our business is unbalanced or our industrial life out of equilibrium but for the reason that both capital and labor realize that the functions of natural basic economic law ordain that there must be a reorganization of our industrial life. And what affects our industrial life is bound to affect our home life. As between capital and labor, neither is, to our mind, out of balance with respect to the other but rather, both are living and existing on war time schedule and while capital fears losses on its war time expansions and the inroads of radicalism among the workers, the workers are not willing to make any sacrifice until they see the "water" being wrung out of moneyed interests.

Keen agitators and organizers, quick to sense the real nature of the circumstances, set to work to organize the workers into groups to deal with the various trades and industries, and encouraged by the golden promises thrown out in the gospel of the "new freedom" together with the advantages gained through intervention by the government in disputes between industries and their workmen, these groups are speedily being welded into one central unit with a single purpose in mind.

The false lure of nationalization of different units of industry has tempted labor leaders who see in the working out of such a plan many fat jobs awaiting them as the representatives of the workers and the mistaken idea that industry runs itself and that the owners have nothing to do but pocket the profits has been absorbed by many workers who have not stopped to consider the not all to far distant future with its new problems. Neither do they take into account that the various industries have had their "dark days" when the owners and the management have had their losses and their worries while the weekly wages, though sometimes low, continued to be paid. With nationalization of industry, wages may be a sure thing, but it must be borne in mind that in case of those inevitable "dark days" those losses must be made up from the purse of the citizen in taxes.

Judge Gary may be sincere in his declaration that he believes the committee seeking to meet him does not truly represent his thousands of workmen but in his course of action we see bigger things ahead. Judge Gary is not the whole steel works and it is most certain that any concessions made by him will necessarily have to be made to every other group which approaches employers in like manner and this pilgrimage to the shrine of bigger wages and better conditions will continue until all lines of industry are involved. Judge Gary does not choose to set the "style" and the result is apparent. Sympathy strikes and a spread to other industries will result.

We see the battle lines forming. Labor was never better organized though owing to living conditions and the cost of living may not be in a position to stand out long in its demands. Capital is on the defensive and in the use of the term capital today we take in a lot of human territory as the distribution of stocks and bonds is much wider than ever in the history of American business.

Every cloud has its silver lining. Out of the contest will come a better understanding, a leveling of industrial ground, an appreciation of the value of a dollar and an ultimate uninterrupted period of industry growing out of the healthier state of business which will ensue.

The union labor leaders who are preparing for a strike of the employees of the United States Steel Corporation drafted and mailed to the President of the United States a long letter giving their reasons for refusing to postpone the strike beyond September 22.

The principal reason given for the refusal is an alleged arbitrary attitude of E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the steel corporation, who refuses to confer with the representatives of the unions.

"Answering your request through Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, that the date for the strike in the steel industry of this country be postponed from September 22 next, the date heretofore fixed, until after a conference called by you to meet in Washington on October 6 next, we respectfully make the following report:

"For years there has been great unrest among the steel workers of our country because of the unusual, un-American and despotic industrial conditions. Finding no redress in individual efforts, the men naturally sought, by the example of other workers through their organizations, to associate themselves for collective defense. Oppression growing beyond endurance, the call for assistance to redress grievances came from every quarter of the industry to the St. Paul convention of the American Federation of Labor held in June, 1918. A committee consisting of representatives of the crafts engaged in this industry was ordered to and did make investigation. They found the field over-ripe for organization. The enrollment of membership grew by leaps and bounds. Relief from their oppression was imminent and yet, out of patriotic consideration to our cause, they endured the continued suffering without cessation of their labors to the end that despotism abroad might not gain thereby aid and comfort.

Were Persuaded to Wait.

"Immediately after the armistice was declared the men insisted upon having their wrongs righted. They were persuaded, however, to wait until the Atlantic City convention of the American Federation of Labor, held in June, 1919. Following a report made to that convention Mr. Gompers sought a conference with Mr. Gary, chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, on that subject in the hope of avoiding a grave industrial conflict. Mr. Gompers, whose constructive patriotism is beyond any question, was denied even the courtesy of a reply. Then the men insisted upon action and, following authorization for taking a vote upon a strike, beginning with July 20 and ending August 26 this year, 98 per cent of the men voted for a strike.

"Following the vote taken a committee representing the crafts involved went to Mr. Gary for the purpose of obtaining a conference, in the hope of avoiding the strike. Mr. Gary refused to see the committee or deal with any one of them. The committee, still desirous of avoiding the conflict, laid the whole matter before the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Gompers and the executive council endorsed the actions of the men. Nevertheless, in the hope of averting a conflict, an appeal was made to your honor.

Blame Gary for Decision

"Mr. Gary, obstinate in his denial to grant relief, caused such a great unrest as to necessitate calling a meeting of the presidents of the 24 crafts involved. After a thorough, calm and deliberate review and study of the entire situation, taking into consideration all the consequences that would naturally flow therefrom, these 24 presidents, representing over 2,000,000 organized men, incensed the strike and set September 22 as the date therefor. The date was deferred to September 22 against the best interests of the strike solely in the hope that Mr. Gary and his associates might in the meantime reconsider their position so as to avoid the otherwise inevitable conflict.

Eleven Reasons Are Given

"In a meeting called on September 17, at Pittsburgh, of the representatives of the aforesaid crafts for the purpose of devising ways and means of conducting the strike, your communication through Mr. Gompers that the date of the strike be postponed was received. Two days of consideration were given to the same. Everyone present desired, if it were possible, to comply with your request. Your request for postponement would have been gladly granted were it not for the following facts:

"1. Mr. Gary has asserted that his men need no trained representation in their behalf in presenting their grievances, notwithstanding that they can neither economically by lack of means nor intelligently, by lack of schooling, cope with him or his representatives.

"2. That ever since the men started to organize, a systematic persecution was instituted, beginning with discharge and ending with murder, recalling to us vividly the days of Homestead and the reign of despotism in Russia.

"3. Through the efforts of the representatives of the industry officials in various localities have denied the men free assembly and free speech, instances are too numerous where meetings have been suppressed, men arrested, tried on various unfounded charges, excessive bail required and cruel punishment imposed, all without warrant in law and justice.

"4. As one of many examples, in the city of Mead, meetings held by the men within their constitutional rights was broken up and men arrested and thrown into jail, charged with riot and held to the excessive bail of $3,000 each, while one of the hirelings of the steel industry, arrested for the murder of a woman organizer at Brackenridge, Pa., is being held under bail of but $2,500. Another recent example is Hammada, Ind., where four defenseless union men were charged upon and killed by hired detectives of the steel industry and witnesses in behalf of their survivors have been so intimidated and maltreated that the truth of the killing was suppressed.

Guns Planted in Mills.

"5. Guns and cannon have been planted in mills, highly charged electric wires have been strung around their premises.

"6. Armed men in large numbers are going about intimidating, not only the workers, but everybody in many communities who show the slightest indication of sympathy with the men.

"7. Men have been discharged in increasingly large numbers day by day. Threats and intimidations are resorted to for the purpose of putting the men in fear and prevent them from the exercise of their own free will, coerced into signing statements that they are not members, nor will not become members of any labor organization, and threatened with eviction, blacklist, denial of credit and starvation.

"8. That a forced decline of the market would be imposed, so as to wipe out their holdings in stock, which they were induced to purchase in years past. Threats to move the mills and to close them up indefinitely.

"9. That an organized propaganda for vilification of the American Federation of Labor, spreading rumors that the strike will be delayed and that such delay is only a sell-out.

"10. Showing no opposition to the men joining dual organizations. As a result of this propaganda the I. W. W. is making rapid headway in some of the districts.

"11. That the real reason for opposition to organized labor representation on behalf of the men who have grievances is that the steel industry is preparing to cut wages and to lower the standards to pre-war times and to return to a condition that encouraged the padrone system so prevalent in that particular industry.

"Mr. President, delay is no longer possible. We have tried to find a way, but cannot. We regret that for the first time your call upon organized labor cannot meet with favorable response. Believe us the fault is not ours. If delay were no more than delay, even at the cost of loss of membership in our organizations, we would urge the same to the fullest of our ability, notwithstanding the men are firmly set for an immediate strike. But delay here means the surrender of all hope. This strike is not at the call of its leaders, but that of the men involved. Win or lose, the strike is inevitable and will continue until industrial despotism will recede from the untenable position now occupied by Mr. Gary. We have faith in your desire to bring about a conference and hope you will succeed therein. We fully understand the hardships that meanwhile will follow, and the reign of terror that unfair employers will institute. The burden falls upon the men, but the great responsibility therefore rests upon the other side."

Reply to Gary's Letter.

The statement reads: In his letter of September 18 to the presidents of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation, Judge Gary stated that he had two reasons in mind when he refused to meet with the American Federation of Labor committee which called upon him recently requesting a conference for the purpose of presenting grievances of his employees:

First. He did not believe that the committee was authorized to speak for large numbers of the employees.

Second. A conference with the committee would have been treated by them as a recognition of the "closed shop" method of employment.

If these are the real reasons actually Judge Gary, surely they are not sufficient to plunge the industry into a great labor conflict. Judge Gary presents a false promise and then declares that he will stand or fall upon this false ground.

The committee that waited upon Judge Gary were the selected representatives of the employees. And they requested a conference for the purpose of establishing the principle of collective bargaining and some practical method of redressing grievances.

Say Strike Is "Only Way."

Judge Gary denied their authority to represent the employees and refused to meet them in conference. The only way left for the employees to convince Judge Gary that the committee could represent the great body of the employees of the United States Steel Corporation is to cease work until the corporation agrees to meet their representatives in conference. This the employees have decided to do on Monday.

QUICK AND ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

THE Nash Quad does double duty in road construction. It not only carries men and materials to and from the scene of operations, but pulls scarifiers and drags on the job as well, eliminating the necessity of teams or a tractor.

The fact that it drives on all four wheels gives it the unusual pulling power so necessary in road construction. The front wheels keep pulling and the rear wheels pushing the Quad ahead.

LALLEY LIGHT and POWER

The Sound Reasons for Lalley Preference

As a rule farmers do not state why they prefer Lalley Light, except for its savings.

The underlying reasons—the reasons why Lalley has the ability and the soundness to make these savings—are easily understood.

The engine has but three moving parts. There is but little to get out of order or wear out.

It is water-cooled—the most positive and effective way of cooling a gasoline engine, and a big factor in the Lalley's operating economy.

Having big ball bearings, the engine runs with the very minimum of friction and wear.

It is vibrationless, and as quiet as a sewing machine.

It will never annoy you, no matter where you place it.

The Lalley does save time and money and labor—because it is built to last, and to give uniformly satisfactory service.

You should get your own Lalley-Light now—since every day's delay means an actual loss of money to you.

Ask yourself if there is any good reason for doing without Lalley Electric Light and Power this fall and winter.

Then come to see us, or send for us.

Why We Welcome Small Accounts

Many people believe that a bank does not want small accounts.

In such accounts, however, the profits are mutual.

The bank that encourages small accounts often sees them grow into large ones.

The possession of a bank account inspires the depositor to saving habits and teaches him to be business-like.

We are glad to serve the small depositor, believing his connection with the bank will benefit both him and ourselves.

STEEL STRIKE ONLY A STARTER

day morning, September 22.
It is unfortunate that the employees are compelled to resort to a strike in order to prove the authority of their selected representatives to present their grievances. But as there is no other way, the proof in the form of a strike will effectively remove all doubt in Judge Gary's mind.

In the second place, Judge Gary set up the question of the "close shop," which has absolutely no basis whatsoever in the present controversy. It is simply dragged in here by Judge Gary as a bugaboo to bedevil the real issue.

There is one and only one question at issue and that is the question of a conference. The employees have exhausted every avenue of approach to the corporation for the purpose of securing a conference and every avenue has been closed to them. Their last and only hope is to strike and now the employees declare that they will cease work on next Monday morning until such time as the corporation will meet their representatives in conference for the purpose of establishing humane and reasonable methods of dealing with the very vital problems which affect their lives, their homes and their future.

Jews in Poland MUST HAVE RELIEF

Terror that stalks boldly at noon and fills the night with dread, is part of the plight of East European Jewry.

According to Barnett Zuckerman, who has recently returned from Poland, where as a relief worker for the Jewish Relief committee, he found that added to the burden of hunger and disease, is the age old terror of race persecution, violence and bloodshed. Mr. Zuckerman, who passed through Pittsburgh yesterday, declares that the sights he was forced to see among his co-religionists in the war stricken lands, still fills him with horror.

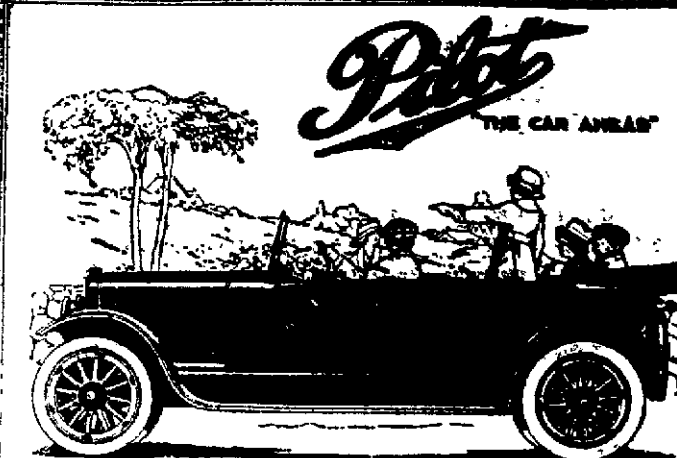

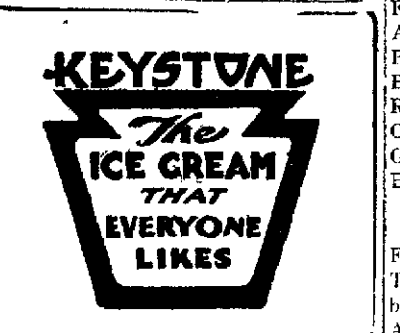

"The reign of terror is not over. The Jew still lives in constant apprehension of physical violence and death," said Mr. Zuckerman.

"Before the war the Jews were practically unrepresented in the ruling class. Nor has there ever been an appreciable number of wealthy Jews in eastern Europe. So when the economic crash came there was no one to safeguard the Jewish interests or to feed them out of their own plenty."

"Synagogues, schools and other public buildings of these people have been razed to the ground. 'Before the war the Jews of the small towns were chiefly petty traders and merchants. But they have been driven to the cities. Here they have greatly increased the problem of the unemployed. They have no place to sleep, nothing to eat and no chance for work. Millions are starving—must starve to death unless immediate aid is forthcoming from America."

"The backbone of Eastern European Jewry is broken. At least 40 per cent. of the stricken Jews have relatives in America who might aid them but because of the long suspension of communications relatives here and abroad have utterly lost track of one another. Fully 20 per cent. of the Polish Jews were dependent, five years ago, on the money sent from husbands, fathers or brothers in this country. All of these are now cast adrift, helpless."

"We of America must increase our efforts. Relief work from this country among the Jews is pitifully inadequate. The American Jewish Relief committee is more than justified in asking $35,000,000 during 1919. Unless its campaign is successful, starvation will take millions of lives."

CLEARFIELD WINS GAME

Clearfield landed on the slants of Brown hard Wednesday and won the game from Philipsburg easily by the score of 7 to 1. Robison got a hit in the first but was out on a fast double-play. After two were down in the second Kelley got a single to center which was followed immediately by a healthy wallop to center for three bases by Heberling earning Clearfield's first run. They got another in the fourth on an error, a steal of second and an out at first, and one more in the fifth on a hit by Bowes an out at first and a hit to center by Fagan. In the sixth they got four more on two-base hits by Kelley, Heberling and Lester and singles by Bowes and Robison.

Philipsburg got their lone run in the sixth on a hit to right, a stolen base and another hit. Fagan's playing at short was the big feature of the game in the defense while Heberling's hitting was the feature on the offense.

Steel Workers And
Companies PrepareWORKERS AT ONE CARNEGIE MILL VOTE
AGAINST STRIKE BUT COURSE
OF MANY UNDECIDED

MANY MILLS SHUTTING DOWN

By FRED S. FERGUSON
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—Prospect of trouble with possible clashes began to grow this afternoon as plants prepared for the big steel strike. Two companies of Pennsylvania's famous state police were ordered out and 10,000 deputies were being sworn in by the authorities.

Mayors of steel towns about Pittsburgh announced that steps will be taken to prevent unlawful mass meetings of steel workers called for Sunday. Local ordinances require that permits be obtained for all public meetings or gatherings. Mass meetings are being ordered by the national headquarters. The mayors say they will arrest all persons attending meetings without permits.

Mayors of such towns as McKeesport, Clairton, Homestead, Rankin and other big steel towns issued proclamations or statements this afternoon declaring that gatherings would be prohibited and that they would see that lives and property would be protected.

Sharon Will be Peaceful

SHARON, Sept. 20.—No attempt to employ strike breakers will be made by the Sharon Steel Hoop company. President F. P. Kerr of the company today issued a letter to all employees informing them that the plant will be open Monday as usual but if the men walk out no attempt will be made to operate. Reproductions of the letter from Judge E. H. Gary to the union men in which he expressed the belief that a majority of the men are against a strike today were circulated throughout the Shenango Valley.

Vote Against Strike

Employees of the north works of the Carnegie Steel Company today took a vote and 95 per cent. of the 300 men declared their position against the strike. Steel company officials today appealed to Sheriff Gibson of Mercer, to swear in a large number of deputies to protect the lives in the event of any disorder. A similar request will be made to Governor Sprout.

Women Will Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Women will be relied upon to help win the nation wide strike against the United States Steel Corporation scheduled to begin Monday, according to chief organizer, John Fitzpatrick.

"Women investigators will be sent into the homes of the strikers to see what help can be given by the union organizations and to keep up the morale of the wives and daughters of the strikers," said Fitzpatrick.

A. F. of L. Aid Expected

Fitzpatrick today was on his way to Chicago. He held a conference yesterday with President Gompers of the A. F. of L. in reply to a direct question as to whether the A. F. of L. must give support. The movement to organize the steel workers was initiated by the A. F. of L. headed by President Gompers.

Neither Fitzpatrick nor Gompers would discuss their conference. Fitzpatrick discussed the letter sent to President Wilson explaining why the steel workers refused to comply with his request to postpone the strike until the round table conference October 1.

Halls Rented

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20.—Steel companies were reported today to have rented all the halls in Braddock and Homestead in hope of preventing meetings of the steel workers on Monday. Union officials meanwhile assert that the men will insist upon their rights of assembly and find places to meet. Rumors of preparations which the steel companies are making throughout Pittsburgh are also being spread.

LETTER EXPLAINS
WHY AIRPLANE DID
NOT ARRIVE HERE

The following letter was received this morning from the American and Canadian Allied Flying Circus, Inc. This letter fully explains the failure of the airplane to reach here for Wednesday's program.

September 13, 1919

Mr. Fred B. Reed,
Clearfield County Fair,
Clearfield, Pa.
Dear Sir:

Following up our telegram of today we wish to express our regrets that both of our attempts to fill your contract were futile.

Immediately upon receiving word that Capt. Stickney had crashed, and could not fill the engagement in time, we got in touch with Lieut. Kenneth M. Murray who has a Sopwith Camel, the only privately owned airplane capable of reaching Clearfield in time, in a non-stop flight from New York.

You might remember Lieut. Murray as the pilot who flew from Toledo on July 4th with the photographs of the Willard-Dempsey fight. He landed in Clearfield at the time, owing to motor trouble.

Lieut. Murray in trying out the Sopwith preparatory to the long flight to Clearfield, made a heavy landing, which bent the axle in such a manner, that it was impossible to fix it in time although two mechanics assisted him in trying to remedy the defect.

We hope that our misfortune in not being able to fill the engagement did not greatly inconvenience you, and can honestly assure you that we did everything in our power to fill the contract on time.

Very truly yours,
American and Canadian Allied Flying Circus, Inc.,
MORSE D. LENITT,
President.

PRESIDENT AT LOS ANGELES

By HUGH BAILEE
United Press Correspondent
ABOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN, Sept. 20.—President Wilson today went to Los Angeles to make practically two speeches and take a week end rest. Only one speech was scheduled for this evening at the Shrine Auditorium, but it was considered likely that he would also speak at a dinner to be tendered him. The President's train left San Diego at 11 o'clock last night.

MISS ELIZA MITCHELL DIES

Miss Eliza Mitchell died at her home on Walnut street at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon after an illness extending over several months. She is survived by two brothers, James and Alfred Mitchell and two sisters, Misses Sarah and Caroline, all of Clearfield.

The funeral will be held from her late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, her pastor Rev. Dr. E. C. Reeve, officiating. Interment in family plot in Hillcrest cemetery.

SAW DOE AND FAWN

Grant H. and Roll B. Thompson almost ran over a doe and fawn on the road near McGees Mills yesterday afternoon while motoring home to Clearfield. The deer recently released in that section by the game commission appear to be increasing rapidly.

TRAVELING GAME PROTECTOR
HERE

Traveling Game Protector Kinter B. Rodgers, of Johnstown, was a Clearfield visitor today having been called here to look into the matter of the proper enforcement of the game laws in this section during the coming hunting season.

Miss Dorothy Deitzel entertained the F. F. F. Club last evening at her home on Daisy street. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games. Dainty refreshments were served.

JOHN L. KRAGLE PASSES AWAY

John L. Kragle, one of Clearfield's best known and most highly respected citizens, died at the Clearfield hospital at 7 o'clock last evening after an illness extending over several months, but which became acute only a few weeks ago. He had been an uncomplicated sufferer for some time and a couple of weeks ago was removed from his Locust street home to the hospital to be prepared for an operation. He appeared to be getting along satisfactorily when he seized some ten days ago with a hemorrhage from the stomach and it was then discovered that his illness was due to a cancerous affection and that it was the question of but a short time until death must ensue.

He was given every attention possible and all the members of his family kept affectionate vigil at his bedside until the final summons came.

John L. Kragle was a native born Clearfielder being the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Kragle, and was born at the family home on Locust street 69 years ago. He learned the painting trade and for many years carried on a successful business in that line here, being actively engaged up until the end.

He was a progressive, good citizen, a loyal friend, honest and upright in his dealings. Always taking an active interest in the welfare of his town and community he was identified with every movement of interest thereto.

He is survived by three sons, Gaulin and John E., of Philadelphia, and Fred, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. W. F. Patterson of DuBois. One brother and two sisters also survive him, viz., George J. and Miss Annie, at home, and Mrs. M. V. Smith, of Clarksburg, W. Va.

The deceased was a lifelong consistent member of the Catholic church, and the funeral will be held from St. Francis church Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

ACCIDENT AT PARK YESTERDAY

A little girl named Lantz, about 8 years old, was knocked down by one of the race horses at the park Friday afternoon and quite painfully hurt, but fortunately escaped serious injury.

While the horses were warming up previous to the first heat in the 2:30 race the little girl and her sister attempted to cross the track. They were almost across when some one called to them to get out of the way of the fast approaching horses. The children bewilderedly stopped, when started again and the one little girl was struck by the sulky and hurled to the track.

Willing hands quickly picked her up and she was taken at once to the hospital where it was found her injuries consisted of a bad cut above the eye and bruises about the body and she was later removed to her home on Fifth street.

ATHLETIC SHOW
ARRANGED FOR
THURSDAY NIGHT

Manager Edwards of the Clearfield Athletic club is arranging to stage another athletic show for the benefit of local sportsmen. As the premier card on the program he has secured Harry Mayo, of Altoona, the 155 pound champion of the U. S. navy who served during the war on the Battleship Massachusetts to meet Kid Gardner, the local expert.

The affair will be held in Friendly Two Hall at the foot of Bigler avenue-hill on Thursday evening next. Mayo is entered this week as a member of the Altoona Athletic club in a contest at Pittsburgh for the Amateur championship of the United States in his class and is expected to give a good account of himself. Henderson is a very fast man and a crackerjack bout is sure to be the result.

In addition to the main bout several boxing and wrestling preliminaries between local cranks will be on the card.

THEATRICAL MAN—SWINDLER

H. L. Davis, alias Edward R. Starley, representing himself to be an advance agent for a street carnival, was successful in defrauding a member bank of Bellefonte, Pa., by means of a check of considerable size, drawn on the Central State Bank of Des Moines, Iowa. Davis, on presenting the check, alleged that it was in payment of expenses by a carnival company he represented. After defrauding this bank, he left the vicinity and was traced to Paul Smiths, N. Y., where he married a young girl of that town. Shortly after their marriage, he deserted her and again dropped from sight. This matter was reported to our detective agents, who are now engaged in tracing the movements of Davis. This operator is described as 35 to 40 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches, 150 pounds, medium build, sallow complexion, blue eyes; dark hair, graying; nervous temperament; flashy dresser; wears I. N. E. fraternity ring on little finger. (Journal of American Bankers Association.)

LITTLE FOLKS POPULAR

It is no disadvantage to be little—in fact we know of three who found that it added much to their popularity—but they were triplets.

The three little Littles of near Grass Flat were the center of attraction at the County Fair and each one of them wore the coveted blue ribbon.

The little Littles are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Little of Pleasant Hill school house near Grass Flat and each one of them is just about one year old. Our reporter was so struck with the three little chaps that he neglected to get their names but that is not of much consequence as it would be hard to pick them out by name anyhow.

From early morning until late at night, the three boys and their proud mother met the crowds that surrounded the booth and all seemed to enjoy it although one little fellow did get pretty tired late in the afternoon.

AMERICAN LEGION DANCE
THURSDAY

The American Legion dance scheduled for next Thursday evening at Idora Park gives promise of being one of the most pleasing functions of the fall season. The boys are making complete arrangements for the affair and a large attendance is already assured.

JOHNSON FINISHES ANTI LEAGUE TOUR

(By United Press.)
ST. PAUL, MINN., Sept. 20.—Senator Hiram Johnson today announced definitely his abandonment of the stumping trip on the Pacific coast. He plans to end his journey on the opposition to the League of Nations covenant with speeches in the twin city today.

TROUBLE MAKERS
WERE LOCKED UP
UNTIL COURT'S END

There was a night session of Civil court last night but one of the jurors failed to catch the announcement when it was made and did not show up after supper. A tipstaff was sent out to look for him and when he failed to return with the man as quickly as was expected Judge Bell got down off the bench and without stopping for his hat started out bare-headed to look for the missing juror. He hustled about the usual loafing places about the centre of town and finally ran across his man, who offered all kinds of apologies when he learned of the delay he was causing. The incident served to recall to old timers the story of the troubles which beset the old-time judges in holding court in the old court house in the early day.

Those original Clearfield county residents, or some of them at least, were pretty rough and tumble citizens and as court week was the big time in the community all who were handy gathered in and about the temple of justice. Usually, it is said, the dignity of the court would be upset from time to time by a rough and tumble serap among the spectators in the gallery. The principal trouble-maker in those days was the original "Jacker" Campbell and it got to be such a regular condition that finally when court week arrived Judge Burnside would ride into town on his saddle horse and after taking his seat on the bench would adjust his spectacles and summoning the Sheriff forthwith, in this ultimatum: "Now, Sheriff, arrest 'Jacker' Campbell and keep him confined in the jail until court is over."

AFTERMATH OF GLEN RICHEY
TORNADO

A good story has just leaked out on John Palmer and Alvin Milburg concerning their antics or actions at the time the recent tornado visited Glen Richey. These men were down at Richey's store just on the edge of the blow when the first rush of leaves, tree branches, fence boards and house roofs sailed by on the "100 mile an hour" wind both hustled for the open air. Palmer was in the lead and managed to reach the hitching post in front of the store, which he clasped in the most affectionate embrace of its cold and cheerless existence. Milburg got his nose into the window and when a piece of flying scantling beamed him he ducked under the porch like old Champ Clark's famous "houn dawg."

MEREDITH—BUSH

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bush, on Turnpike avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Thursday noon when their eldest daughter Iva Degressa was united in marriage to Calvin M. Meredith, son of the late Rev. E. A. Meredith of Kersey, Elk Sully, George Gould, Edith Benjar, Man. Hopstall, Muriel Rastick, Sally Hunt, Frances Allison, Muriel Thomas and a chorus de luxe said to be one of the handsomest and most versatile ever seen outside the metropolis.

An outlay of over twenty thousand dollars is represented in the latest creations from abroad, the houses of Poiret, Redfern, Gordon, Mmes. Francis, Dugan, Orange Costuming company and Wannamaker being represented, the gowns being shown to advantage by twelve of New York's most famous models.

From every view point, the production is promised to be equal to any ever offered in this or any other city. The sale of seats opens Monday.

LOCAL MAN FIRST
TO INSPECT ROAD
FROM AIRPLANE

We may be backwoodsmen or farmers if you prefer, now that the timber is a thing of the past, and of course live forty miles from the main line to somewhere, but the fellow who drops into Clearfield expecting to find a Ruben community had better drive on. "There is nothing new under the sun" up this way, we are here to remark, and when the time for new stunts arrive Clearfield people "are there" just about as soon and generally just a little bit sooner than the other fellow. And we can even get out of town expert opinion to back us up.

The truth of this statement was demonstrated Thursday. Yesterday morning's Philadelphia papers carried a story about a state road contractor in the eastern part of the state who was the first man in the state to look his job over from the air and then told him the contractor had visited the scene of his operations in an airplane.

This was without a doubt an up-to-date proposition, but like many good things the idea originated with a Clearfield man, Contractor H. P. Dowler, of the firm of Dowler & Anderson, who just two hours before the fellow mentioned in the Philadelphia papers had taken the air, went up the line with Lt. Merrill and his DuBois airplane and not only covered the entire length of his three mile state road contract between Clearfield and Curwensville on an inspection trip but transmitted from the air brief instructions to the crew working the steam shovel on the job.

BRIDE SHIP IS

With its bright and witty dialogue, its many jingly tunes, its well connected story, and its delectable production which spells prodigality and a most excellent cast and chorus, Geo. Choo's magnificent production of the famous musical comedy success "The Bride Ship" will make a bid for public approval at the Driggs theatre on Monday next.

The book is by Fred De Gressa who wrote those international successes "The Purple Road," "The Enchantress," "Sweethearts" and "Flo Flo," with lyrics by Earl MacBoyle and music by Walter L. Rosemont. It is in two acts and tells in satire how often people who have too much money and ambition can over reach and make fools of themselves without half trying. There are many clever and tuneful musical numbers introduced during the action of the play among which: "There Seems to be Something About You," "Ring Tang Ping Tung Koo," "Oh, Those Tunes," and "Old Wine and Old Friends Are Best" are bound to be whistled and sung by music lovers before the show leaves town.

Mr. Choo has been most lavish in the mounting and presenting of his production. He has engaged a most excellent cast among whom may be found Eddie Vogt, Lew Naden, John Sully, George Gould, Edith Benjar, Man. Hopstall, Muriel Rastick, Sally Hunt, Frances Allison, Muriel Thomas and a chorus de luxe said to be one of the handsomest and most versatile ever seen outside the metropolis.

An outlay of over twenty thousand dollars is represented in the latest creations from abroad, the houses of Poiret, Redfern, Gordon, Mmes. Francis, Dugan, Orange Costuming company and Wannamaker being represented, the gowns being shown to advantage by twelve of New York's most famous models.

STEEL STRIKE ONLY A STARTER

If the threatened steel strike could be confined to the United States Steel Corporation and their employees it would warrant no more than passing consideration but there is every indication that Judge Gary, instead of being the main figure in a contest involving only one part of the great steel industry, is really the pivot about whom the crucial and final industrial battle of this decade will be fought.

During the war, in order to force production and increase the per man output of manufactured supplies, the government then in control of every branch of industry, found it necessary to offer immense wages and bonuses to both manufacturers and workmen for speed in production. The natural result was that every individual had his appetite whetted with an indulgence in various luxuries which heretofore had been beyond his reach. Our standard of living, from a material standpoint, was raised and as is perfectly natural, nobody is willing to recede from the position gained. Particularly when prices of food and other necessities does not come as a forerunner of lower earnings.

As was pointed out by many keen scholars of just such conditions, the United States has found it impossible to conduct peace time business and live peace time lives on a war time level. It is not because our business is unbalanced or our industrial life out of equilibrium but for the reason that both capital and labor realize that the functions of natural basic economic law ordain that there must be a reorganization of our industrial life. And what affects our industrial life is bound to affect our home life. As between capital and labor, neither is, to our mind, out of balance with respect to the other but rather, both are living and existing on war time schedule and while capital fears losses on its war time expansions and the inroads of radicalism among the workers, the workers are not willing to make any sacrifice until they see the "water" being wrung out of moneyed interests.

Keen agitators and organizers, quick to sense the real nature of the circumstances, set to work to organize the workers into groups to deal with the various trades and industries, and encouraged by the golden promises thrown out in the gospel of the "new freedom" together with the advantages gained through intervention by the government in disputes between industries and their workmen, these groups are speedily being welded into one central unit with a single purpose in mind.

The false lure of nationalization of different units of industry has tempted labor leaders who see in the working out of such a plan many fat jobs awaiting them as the representatives of the workers and the mistaken idea that industry runs itself and that the owners have nothing to do but pocket the profits has been absorbed by many workers who have not stopped to consider the not all to far distant future with its new problems. Neither do they take into account that the various industries have had their "dark days" when the owners and the management have had their losses and their worries while the weekly wages, though sometimes low, continued to be paid. With nationalization of industry, wages may be a sure thing, but it must be borne in mind that in case of those inevitable "dark days" those losses must be made up from the purse of the citizen in taxes.

Judge Gary may be sincere in his declaration that he believes the committee seeking to meet him does not truly represent his thousands of workmen but in his course of action we see bigger things ahead. Judge Gary is not the whole steel works and it is most certain that any concessions made by him will necessarily have to be made to every other group which approaches employers in like manner and this pilgrimage to the shrine of bigger wages and better conditions will continue until all lines of industry are involved. Judge Gary does not choose to set the "style" and the result is apparent. Sympathy strikes and a spread to other industries will result.

We see the battle lines forming. Labor was never better organized though owing to living conditions and the cost of living may not be in a position to stand out long in its demands. Capital is on the defensive and in the use of the term capital today we take in a lot of human territory as the distribution of stocks and bonds is much wider than ever in the history of American business.

Every cloud has its silver lining. Out of the contest will come a better understanding, a leveling of industrial ground, an appreciation of the value of a dollar and an ultimate uninterrupted period of industry growing out of the healthier state of business which will ensue.

The union labor leaders who are preparing for a strike of the employees of the United States Steel Corporation drafted and mailed to the President of the United States a long letter giving their reasons for refusing to postpone the strike beyond September 22.

The principal reason given for the refusal is an alleged arbitrary attitude of E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the steel corporation, who refuses to confer with the representatives of the unions.

"Answering your request through Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, that the date for the strike in the steel industry of this country be postponed from September 22 next, the date heretofore fixed, until after a conference called by you to meet in Washington on October 6 next, we respectfully make the following report:

"For years there has been great unrest among the steel workers of our country because of the unusual, un-American and despotic industrial conditions. Finding no redress in individual efforts, the men naturally sought, by the example of other workers through their organizations, to associate themselves for collective defense. Oppression growing beyond endurance, the call for assistance to redress grievances came from every quarter of the industry to the St. Paul convention of the American Federation of Labor held in June, 1918. A committee consisting of representatives of the crafts engaged in this industry was ordered to and did make investigation. They found the field over-ripe for organization. The enrollment of membership grew by leaps and bounds. Relief from their oppression was imminent and yet, out of patriotic consideration to our cause, they endured the continued suffering without cessation of their labors to the end that despotism abroad might not gain thereby aid and comfort.

Were Persuaded to Wait.

"Immediately after the armistice was declared the men insisted upon having their wrongs righted. They were persuaded, however, to wait until the Atlantic City convention of the American Federation of Labor, held in June, 1919. Following a report made to that convention Mr. Gompers sought a conference with Mr. Gary, chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, on that subject in the hope of avoiding a grave industrial conflict. Mr. Gompers, whose constructive patriotism is beyond any question, was denied even the courtesy of a reply. Then the men insisted upon action and, following authorization for taking a vote upon a strike, beginning with July 20 and ending August 26 this year, 98 per cent of the men voted for a strike.

"Following the vote taken a committee representing the crafts involved went to Mr. Gary for the purpose of obtaining a conference, in the hope of avoiding the strike. Mr. Gary refused to see the committee or deal with any one of them. The committee, still desirous of avoiding the conflict, laid the whole matter before the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Gompers and the executive council endorsed the actions of the men. Nevertheless, in the hope of averting a conflict, an appeal was made to your honor.

Blame Gary for Decision

"Mr. Gary, obstinate in his denial to grant relief, caused such a great unrest as to necessitate calling a meeting of the presidents of the 24 crafts involved. After a thorough, calm and deliberate review and study of the entire situation, taking into consideration all the consequences that would naturally flow therefrom, these 24 presidents, representing over 2,000,000 organized men, incoercibly struck and set September 22 as the date therefor. The date was deferred to September 22 against the best interests of the strike solely in the hope that Mr. Gary and his associates might in the meantime reconsider their position so as to avoid the otherwise inevitable conflict.

Eleven Reasons Are Given

"In a meeting called on September 17, at Pittsburgh, of the representatives of the aforesaid crafts for the purpose of devising ways and means of conducting the strike, your communication through Mr. Gompers that the date of the strike be postponed was received. Two days of consideration were given to the same. Everyone present desired, if it were possible, to comply with your request. Your request for postponement would have been gladly granted were it not for the following facts:

"1. Mr. Gary has asserted that his men need no trained representation in their behalf in presenting their grievances, notwithstanding that they can neither economically by lack of means nor intelligently, by lack of schooling cope with him or his representatives.

discharge and ending with murder, recalling to us vividly the days of Homestead and the reign of despotism in Russia.

"3. Through the efforts of the representatives of the industry officials in various localities have denied the men free assembly and free speech, instances are too numerous where meetings have been suppressed, men arrested, tried on various unfounded charges, excessive bail required and cruel punishment imposed, all without warrant in law and justice.

"4. As one of many examples, in the city of Mead, meetings held by the men within their constitutional rights was broken up and men arrested and thrown into jail, charged with riot and held to the excessive bail of $3,000 each, while one of the hirelings of the steel industry, arrested for the murder of a woman organizer at Brackenridge, Pa., is being held under bail of but $2,500. Another recent example is Hammada, Ind., where four defenseless union men were charged upon and killed by hired detectives of the steel industry and witnesses in behalf of their survivors have been so intimidated and maltreated that the truth of the killing was suppressed.

Guns Planted in Mills.

"5. Guns and cannon have been planted in mills, highly charged electric wires have been strung around their premises.

"6. Armed men in large numbers are going about intimidating, not only the workers, but everybody in many communities who show the slightest indication of sympathy with the men.

"7. Men have been discharged in increasingly large numbers day by day. Threats and intimidations are resorted to for the purpose of putting the men in fear and prevent them from the exercise of their own free will, coerced into signing statements that they are not members, nor will not become members of any labor organization, and threatened with eviction, blacklist, denial of credit and starvation.

"8. That a forced decline of the market would be imposed, so as to wipe out their holdings in stock, which they were induced to purchase in years past. Threats to move the mills and to close them up indefinitely.

"9. That an organized propaganda for vilification of the American Federation of Labor, spreading rumors that the strike will be delayed and that such delay is only a sell-out.

I. W. W. Making Rapid Headway.

"10. Showing no opposition to the men joining dual organizations. As a result of this propaganda the I. W. W. is making rapid headway in some of the districts.

Mr. President, delay is no longer possible.

"Mr. President, delay is no longer possible. We have tried to find a way, but cannot. We regret that for the first time your call upon organized labor cannot meet with favorable response. Believe us the fault is not ours. If delay were no more than delay, even at the cost of loss of membership in our organizations, we would urge the same to the fullest of our ability, notwithstanding the men are firmly set for an immediate strike. But delay here means the surrender of all hope. This strike is not at the call of its leaders, but that of the men involved. Win or lose, the strike is inevitable and will continue until industrial despotism will recede from the untenable position now occupied by Mr. Gary. We have faith in your desire to bring about a conference and hope you will succeed therein. We fully understand the hardships that meanwhile will follow, and the reign of terror that unfair employers will institute. The burden falls upon the men, but the great responsibility therefore rests upon the other side."

Reply to Gary's Letter.

The statement reads:

In his letter of September 18 to the presidents of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation, Judge Gary stated that he had two reasons in mind when he refused to meet with the American Federation of Labor committee which called upon him recently requesting a conference for the purpose of presenting grievances of his employees:

First. He did not believe that the committee was authorized to speak for large numbers of the employees.

Second. A conference with this committee would have been treated by them as a recognition of the "closed shop" method of employment.

If these are the real reasons actuating Judge Gary, surely they are not sufficient to plunge the industry into a great labor conflict. Judge Gary presents a false promise and then declares that he will stand or fall upon this false ground.

The committee that waited upon Judge Gary were the selected representatives of the employees. And they requested a conference for the purpose of establishing the principle of collective bargaining and some practical method of redressing grievances.

Say Strike Is "Only Way."

Judge Gary denied their authority to represent the employees and refused to meet them in conference. The only way left for the employees to convince Judge Gary that the committee could represent the great body of the employees of the United States Steel Corporation is to cease work until the corporation agrees to meet their representatives in conference. This the employees have decided to do on Monday.

QUICK AND ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

THE Nash Quad does double duty in road construction. It not only carries men and materials to and from the scene of operations, but pulls scarifiers and drags on the job as well, eliminating the necessity of teams or a tractor.

The fact that it drives on all four wheels gives it the unusual pulling power so necessary in road construction. The front wheels keep pulling and the rear wheels pushing the Quad ahead.

LALLEY LIGHT and POWER

The Sound Reasons for Lallely Preference

As a rule farmers do not state why they prefer Lallely Light, except for its savings.

The underlying reasons—the reasons why Lallely has the ability and the soundness to make these savings—are easily understood.

The engine has but three moving parts. There is but little to get out of order or wear out.

It is water-cooled—the most positive and effective way of cooling a gasoline engine, and a big factor in the Lallely's operating economy.

Having big ball bearings, the engine runs with the very minimum of friction and wear.

It is vibrationless, and as quiet as a sewing machine.

It will never annoy you, no matter where you place it.

The Lallely does save time and money and labor—because it is built to last, and to give uniformly satisfactory service.

You should get your own Lallely-Light now—since every day's delay means an actual loss of money to you.

Ask yourself if there is any good reason for doing without Lallely Electric Light and Power this fall and winter.

Then come to see us, or send for us.

Why We Welcome Small Accounts

Many people believe that a bank does not want small accounts.

In such accounts, however, the profits are mutual.

The bank that encourages small accounts often sees them grow into large ones.

The possession of a bank account inspires the depositor to saving habits and teaches him to be business-like.

We are glad to serve the small depositor, believing his connection with the bank will benefit both him and ourselves.

STEEL STRIKE ONLY A STARTER

day morning, September 22.
It is unfortunate that the employees are compelled to resort to a strike in order to prove the authority of their selected representatives to present their grievances. But as there is no other way, the proof in the form of a strike will effectively remove all doubt in Judge Gary's mind.
In the second place, Judge Gary set up the question of the "close shop," which has absolutely no basis whatsoever in the present controversy. It is simply dragged in here by Judge Gary as a bugaboo to bedevil the real issue.
There is one and only one question at issue and that is the question of a conference. The employees have exhausted every avenue of approach to the corporation for the purpose of securing a conference and every avenue has been closed to them. Their last and only hope is to strike and now the employees declare that they will cease work on next Monday morning until such time as the corporation will meet their representatives in conference for the purpose of establishing humane and reasonable methods of dealing with the very vital problems which affect their lives, their homes and their future.

Jews in Poland MUST HAVE RELIEF

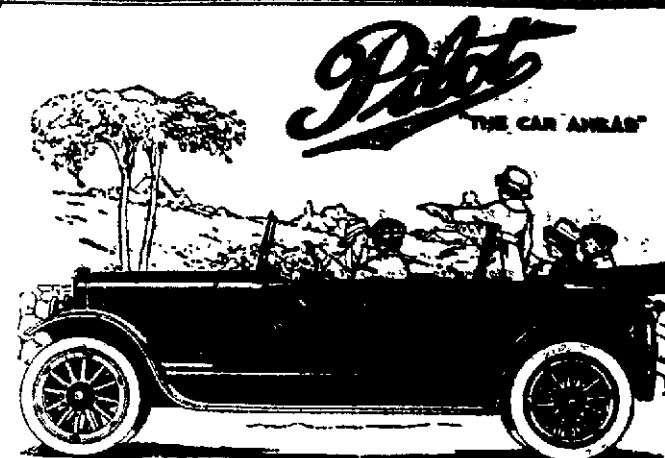

Terror that stalks boldly at noon and fills the night with dread, is part of the plight of East European Jewry. According to Barnett Zuckerman, who has recently returned from Poland, where as a relief worker for the Jewish Relief committee, he found that added to the burden of hunger and disease, is the age old terror of race persecution, violence and bloodshed. Mr. Zuckerman, who passed through Pittsburgh yesterday, declares that the sights he was forced to see among his co-religionists in the war stricken lands, still fills him with horror.

"The reign of terror is not over. The Jew still lives in constant apprehension of physical violence and death," said Mr. Zuckerman.

"Before the war the Jews were practically unrepresented in the ruling class. Nor has there ever been an appreciable number of wealthy Jews in eastern Europe. So when the economic crash came there was no one to safeguard the Jewish interests or to feed them out of their own plenty. "Synagogues, schools and other public buildings of these people have been razed to the ground.
"Before the war the Jews of the small towns were chiefly petty traders and merchants. But they have been driven to the cities. Here they have greatly increased the problem of the unemployed. They have no place to sleep, nothing to eat and no chance for work. Millions are starving—must starve to death unless immediate aid is forthcoming from America.

"The backbone of Eastern European Jewry is broken. At least 40 per cent. of the stricken Jews have relatives in America who might aid them but because of the long suspension of communications relatives here and abroad have utterly lost track of one another. Fully 20 per cent. of the Polish Jews were dependent, five years ago, on the money sent from husbands, fathers or brothers in this country. All of these are now cast adrift, helpless.

"We of America must increase our efforts. Relief work from this country among the Jews is pitifully inadequate. The American Jewish Relief committee is more than justified in asking $35,000,000 during 1919. Unless its campaign is successful, starvation will take millions of lives."

CLEARFIELD WINS GAME

Clearfield landed on the slants of Brown hard Wednesday and won the game from Philipsburg easily by the score of 7 to 1. Robison got a hit in the first but was out on a fast double-play. After two were down in the second Kelley got a single to center which was followed immediately by a healthy wallop to center for three bases by Heberling earning Clearfield's first run. They got another in the fourth on an error, a steal of second and an out at first, and one more in the fifth on a hit by Bowes an out at first and a hit to center by Fagan. In the sixth they got four more on two-base hits by Kelley, Heberling and Lester and singles by Bowes and Robinson.

Philipsburg got their lone run in the sixth on a hit to right, a stolen base and another hit. Fagan's playing at short was the big feature of the game in the defense while Heberling's hitting was the feature on the offense.
